U.S. Pilots Hit Red Transport; Lose 5 Planes

SAIGON (AP) — Thick monsoon clouds began to settle over North Vietnam again today, curtailing the brief resurgence of heavy attacks on the North Vietnamese heartland during which U.S. pilots reported damage to four major bridges, more than 30 SAM missile sites and more than 100 railroad cars and locomotives.

The raids cost the United States at least five planes in as many days.

A flurry of strikes went into the Hanoi area late Monday, and some missions again probed deep this morning before the cloud blanket began to close in about noon.

U.S. headquarters reported heavy damage Monday to Hanoi's mile-long Paul Doumer bridge, one of two over which all rail traffic from Red China to the capital must pass. The U.S. Command said a rain of 3,000-pound bombs knocked out three of the bridge's 19 spans.

It was the fifth raid on the Doumer bridge and the second since Thursday.

U.S. headquarters also made delayed announcement of the loss of a Navy F4 Phantom jet in raids last Saturday and said the two crewmen were picked up by a helicopter after parachuting into the Tonkin Gulf. It was the 760th U.S. combat plane the American command has admitted losing over the North.

North Vietnam claimed at least 27 American planes were brought down since the break in the weather last Thursday allowed U.S. Army, Navy and Marine jets to return in force to the Hanoi-Haiphong area. The U.S. Command so far has reported five planes lost, with one pilot killed, five missing and three rescued.

Despite the losses, American officers were satisfied with the results since Thursday. They said the raids caused extensive damage to Hanoi's two major bridges, with two more knocked out in Haiphong, a series of lesser bridges knocked down around both cities, and more than 30 anti-aircraft missile sites were bombed and rocketed.

In addition, Air Force and Navy pilots reported rich strikes on a dozen or more trains caught in the open and said they destroyed or damaged more than 100 rail cars and half a dozen locomotives.

Gold Demand Almost Normal

LONDON (AP) — Demand for gold suddenly dropped back almost to normal on the London gold market today, indicating the gold rush in Europe may be ending.

The price dropped in Hong Kong, and market specialists said the rush appeared ended there also. Hong Kong speculators were reported convinced by the U.S. government's pledge over the weekend that the United States could—and would—hold the price of gold at $35 an ounce.

Bullion dealers in London reported turnover today ranging from moderate down to practically normal.

Sellers stayed out of the market, however, holding onto the hoards of gold they piled up during the past month of uncertainty over the stability of the dollar following devaluation of the pound.

Gold opened in London at $30.1975, unchanged from Monday and just a quarter of a cent below the official ceiling.

Deputy Declines Reinstatement

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A deputy who was fired by Washtenaw County Sheriff Douglas Harvey has declined an offer of reinstatement in his old job.

Harvey said the deputy, Alfred Bland, considered the offer for three days before turning it down.

Bland was one of four deputies fired in a dispute over recognition of the Washtenaw County Deputies Association by the County Board of Supervisors.

Fresh Snow Stalls Rescue Of Navajos

WINDOW ROCK, Ariz. (AP)

Navajo reservation officials are appealing for federal and state help as severe weather conditions continued today in southwestern areas blanketed by six days of snow.

Tribal Chairman Raymond Nakai, in asking President Johnson to declare the 16-million-acre reservation a disaster area, said the situation was the most critical in the modern-day history of the Navajo nation.

Three persons were known dead on the reservation as a result of back-to-back winter storms which in the past week had claimed at least 32 lives in Arizona, Colorado, Texas and New Mexico.

And the end was not in sight. Heavy snow warnings were posted today for mountain areas of California, Nevada, Utah, Arizona, New Mexico, Colorado, Wyoming and southern Idaho.

Helicopter Grounded

Six Air Force helicopters at Window Rock for search and rescue operations on the reservation were grounded for the most part Monday as a fresh blizzard moved in and added to the snow which already had been whipped into drifts five feet high. Another half-foot of snow and winds of 35 miles per hour were forecast today.

One man from the St. Michaels' area west of Window Rock said he had been trying to dig out of his ranch since last Thursday. When he reached Window Rock Monday night he said snow in the area reached up to the stomachs of cattle.

The latest fatality was a baby less than a week old who died of exposure Monday at Tolani Lake, about 60 miles northeast of Flagstaff, Ariz., tribal police

Asst. Supt. Frank Chambers said.

Nut Pickers Trapped

Chambers also said some 80 persons, about half of them children, made their way Monday to a Navajo meeting house at Pinon, about 102 miles northwest of Window Rock. He said they apparently were among a group of Pinon nut pickers who were reported trapped in the wilderness when the snow first hit. Some of them were ill and others had been without food for 10 days, Chambers said.

New Mexico Gov. David Cargoe disclosed Monday night that some federal assistance already was on the way in the form of hay for stranded livestock, heavy equipment, airplanes and food.

He said Price Daniel, director of the Office of Emergency Planning, promised the assistance when telephoned by the governors of four of the hardest-hit states—Cargoe, Jack Williams of Arizona, Calvin Rampton of Utah and John Love of Colorado.

Tribal leader Nakai also planned an appeal to Cargoe, Williams and Rampton, the governors of the three states on which most of the giant reservation lies, for any possible assistance.

Elsewhere in the Southwest, the snow isolated small communities, closed major highways and threatened livestock. Flagstaff, Ariz., had 54 inches on the ground Monday.

Doctors Fear 'Heart Reject' By Washkansky

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — Louis Washkansky, the heart transplant patient, was in "very serious condition" today but doctors said they had not given up hope he will recover.

Dr. M.C. Botha reported a "very dramatic decrease" in Washkansky's white blood count in the past few hours. This aroused fears that his body is acting against its own tissue—the lungs and white blood cells—more than against the heart grafted into him Dec. 3.

Doctors planned a transfusion of normal white blood cells to combat this. The transfusion decision was taken on the recommendation of a French blood cancer specialist. This treatment has on occasion had "quite remarkable results," Botha said.

Four donors gave blood for this purpose this morning and the treatment will probably be repeated in the afternoon, Botha said.

Earlier, it had been assumed that signs of a lung infection discovered Saturday indicated pneumonia.

The doctors had strained faces, but said there was still reason for optimism that the 53-year-old Washkansky would survive.

Botha, one of the key figures in the heart operation, said a U.S. transplant surgeon, Dr. T.E. Starzl, had encountered similar rejection circumstances in kidney transplants.

Starzl, of the Veterans Administration Hospital at Denver, Colo., had found that most kidney transplant patients whose own tissue had been attacked by the body in much the same way had survived after being ill for about two weeks, he said.

The doctors on Monday night reported a deterioration in the condition of the 53-year-old wholesale grocer, who developed lung complications on Saturday.

Dr. Botha said although there were various possible explanations for the decrease in Washkansky's white blood count, "it seems likely a process of rejection is taking place."

But he added that the rejection process might be affecting "his own tissues such as the lungs and circulating white blood cells" rather than the heart which was transplanted into his body.

Ever since the operation, Washkansky's doctors had believed the greatest danger to him lay in the body's normal tendency to reject organs and other foreign bodies implanted

LBJ To Australia For Holt Services

CANBERRA, Australia (AP)

Australia's minister of education and science, Sen. John Grey Gorton, emerged today as a likely compromise successor to Prime Minister Harold Holt.

Holt, who disappeared while swimming in the surf off the southeast coast Sunday, is to be memorialized at a service in Melbourne Friday attended by President Johnson. The President's decision to make the 10,173-mile flight was an unusual gesture of respect for his staunch ally in the Vietnam war.

Three other Vietnam war allies—President Nguyen Van Thieu of South Vietnam, President Ferdinand Marcos of the Philippines and President Chung Hee Park of South Korea—announced they would attend the Melbourne service also. There was speculation they would hold an informal summit conference with Johnson and Australian leaders on the prosecution of the war.

Informed sources in London said British Prime Minister Harold Wilson might also fly to Australia.

Deputy Prime Minister John

McEwen, leader of the Country party, was sworn in today as interim prime minister to serve until Holt's Liberal party, the larger member of the Liberal-Country coalition, elects a new party leader and prime minister at a meeting Jan. 9.

Normally Federal Treasurer William McMahon, the deputy leader of the Liberals, would succeed Holt. But McEwen made clear to the Liberals that his party would withdraw from the coalition if McMahon was chosen, leaving the government three votes short of a majority.

Gorton, a 6-foot, 56-year-old farmer whose wife was born in the United States, conferred with other Liberal leaders today and told newsmen they had asked him to run for Holt's seat in the House of Representatives so he could take over the government reins. He said he had formally notified McMahon and the party's deputy parliamentary leader of his candidacy.

Witnesses said the F4 jet flew on a direct course into the back of the store, Roswell Burk, 15, one of those near the scene, said it looked like one of the wings hit the corner of the building first.

"I had been expecting this," said Fred Cirillo, 38, operator of a service station across the street from the market. "In the past two weeks I have had nine windows knocked out of my station because of the low-flying planes."

One of the first to rush into the store and lead victims out was Ernest Sanchez, 26.

"I believe I saw the bodies of two children, three women and a man," he said.

Sanchez said he was able to aid several of the panic-stricken persons inside. "I was just inside the store when a woman ran in from outside. I think she had a child in the rear of the store. There was nothing but flames there. I grabbed her. When she struggled to get free I pushed her out of the store," he said.

Romney Interviews Red Premier Today

MOSCOW (AP)—Gov. George Romney of Michigan went to the Kremlin today and met with Premier Alexei N. Kosygin.

Romney was accompanied by the U.S. embassy first secretary, Alexander Akalovsky, who translated at one of the Glassboro, N.J. meetings between Kosygin and President Johnson.

The meeting with Kosygin was the only one with a Soviet official granted the Republican presidential candidate during his two-day stay in Moscow.

Since his arrival Monday, Romney has shied away from comment on U.S.-Soviet issues. His aides indicated that the governor would say little or nothing afterward about his talk with the Soviet premier.

Romney is due to fly out of Moscow Wednesday for Tel Aviv, Israel, to continue his world tour.

The governor spent the morning taking a ride on the Moscow subway, looking at an exhibit on Soviet space achievements and being shown Lenin's Tomb in the Red Square.

Then he lunched with U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn E. Thompson and the ambassadors

Killed In Vietnam

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department Monday listed three Michigan men among 98 U.S. dead in recent action in the Vietnam war.

The three, all Army men, were Spec. 4 Lloyd Slack, son of Mrs. Lola Riley of Grand Rapids; 2nd Lt. Howard L. Doyle, son of Mrs. Betty E. Howlett of Davison; and Sgt. J.C. John D. Roche, husband of Mrs. Betty A. Roche, Bay City.

Thanks To Yanks Goes Nationwide

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)

"People do care," wrote a Jenison, Mich., mother whose son is in Vietnam.

From Tucson, Ariz., came a check for $11.09—the contribution of a Sunday School class.

Another small check and a two-line note written by a child said: "I would like to give up a Christmas present from my parents and send $5. It is very little in return for what the guys in Vietnam are doing for us."

These are among hundreds of letters to "Project Thank You," a church-sponsored campaign to get Americans to contribute toward gifts as expressions of gratitude to U.S. soldiers in Vietnam.

President Johnson has called the project "unselfish and heart-warming," and added a special thanks to two youngsters who donated money they had saved for the purchase of a pony.

Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam, commended the project as "the kind of grass roots support the men in Vietnam really appreciate."

It has been endorsed by Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill., and other senators and congressmen, innumerable individuals, organizations and businesses—many of which are donating goods for fighting men.

Ironically, the project in a sense is the result of recent antiwar demonstrations around the Pentagon in Washington.

Result Of War Protests

"We decided that enough was enough," said Dr. Robert Plecker, a dentist who heads the Christian Reformed Church Laymen's League, which originated and sponsors the project. "Americans needed a way to express support for the troops." The project made its first public appearance only three weeks ago on Nov. 25.

During that marathon, listeners kept eight telephone lines busy with pledges of funds for the project. The amount promised by the end of the marathon was $33,000. Actually received: $40,000.

Many Requests

"We've gotten requests for us to do marathons in St. Paul and Minneapolis, Los Angeles, Denver, New York, Florida, dozens of others," Plecker said. "Some we can't work out, but we try to meet as many of the requests as we can."

The gifts are small—resealable plastic pouches containing a pair of socks, postcards, pencils, packets of powdered pre-sweetened soft drink, packages of small antiseptic wash clothes, and a copy of "The Gospel of Mark."

Use Motor Sleds Safely, Legally, Officers Advise

Area motor sled enthusiasts are cautioned by Sgt. W. F. Treichel of the Gladstone Post of the Michigan State Police to guide their participation in this increasingly popular winter activity with due regard for legal and safe use.

K. Heafield, 57, Former Garden Resident Dies

Kenneth Heafield, 57, of Bay City, died Dec. 16 at 5:15 a. m. at Mercy Hospital following a short illness. He was the former associate dean of students at Delta College, Bay City.

He was born in Burton on Trent, England, April 13, 1910 and came to the United States as a small child. He spent his childhood in Garden. On Aug. 8, 1953, he was married to Ruth Esther Partington, who survives him.

Also surviving are two sons, David of Rochester, Mich., and John, at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor; two daughters, Mrs. Margaret Hamilton of Cambridge, Mass., and Kathryn Heafield of Olivet, Mich.; and three grandchildren; his mother, Mrs. Edith Heafield of Garden; two brothers, Gordon of Lindsay, Mont., and Clyde of Detroit; two sisters, Mrs. Noreen Shaver of Wykoff, N. J., and Mrs. Cecily Muse of Traverse City.

Mr. Heafield was a member of the First Congregational Church, president of the State Poultry Society of Michigan and has had two books published. He had been with Delta College for six years and formerly was director of admissions at Michigan Technological University at Houghton.

The body is being brought to the Garden Congregational Church where visitation will be held until 1:30 p. m., Wednesday the time of services. They will be conducted by Rev. Charles Hastings and burial will be in the Kates' Bay Cemetery.

The first horseless carriage with a fare meter was built by the Daimler Motor Company and put to work on the streets of Stuttgart, Germany, in 1897. An ad in a German paper said: "This modern undertaking is warmly recommended to the gentry, officers, hunting and sport clubs and the general public."

42 Still Missing; Drag Ohio River For Bridge Dead

POINT PLEASANT, W. Va. (AP) — A 14-mile small craft drags on the Ohio River today in an attempt to find the bodies of those missing in the suspension bridge collapse.

Searchers have recovered 19 bodies since the Friday disaster. Civil Defense officials estimate there are still 42 missing. Army officers in charge of the recovery estimate the dragging operation will take several days. They said small craft will drag "every inch" of the river bottom from the mangled wreckage of the collapsed Silver Bridge to the Gallipolis dam 14 miles downstream.

Meanwhile, federal and state officials from Ohio and West Virginia continue to probe the cause of the disaster. President Johnson sent a telegram Monday night to Gov. Hulett C. Smith of West Virginia, promising federal aid to restore transportation across the river and for plans to build a new bridge. "Every possible help will be rendered," said Johnson. "The nation has been saddened by the Silver Bridge tragedy."

The West Virginia Road Commission has engaged a consulting engineering firm—Modjeski and Masters of Harrisburg, Pa.—to provide what Road Commissioner Burt A. Sawyers called "an independent analysis" of possible causes of the collapse.

Harry Stephens, the road commission's chief bridge design engineer, said his investigators already have ruled out one possible cause—failure of the anchorage at each end of the suspension span.

"The anchorage has not moved and we can rule that out altogether," he said.

Ohio Highway Director P. E. Masheter has ordered inspections of three other Ohio River bridges. West Virginia's Road Commission has closed the Ohio River bridge at St. Mary's, 80 miles north of here, because it is of the same type as the fallen bridge and was built about the same time. Several other bridges on the Ohio and Kanawha Rivers are being inspected by West Virginia authorities.

Hermansville Christmas Party

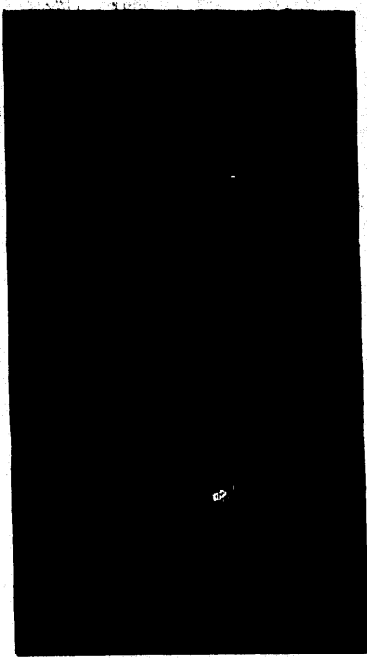

A large group of ladies attended the St. Anne's Christmas party Tuesday in the parish hall. With the advent wreath as centerpiece, Rev. Gervase Brewer lit one of the candles and led the group in the prayers for the first week of advent. A buffet supper was served, after which the group joined in singing Christmas carols and the exchange of gifts.

The December meeting of the Altar Society was held in conjunction with the party, but election of officers was tabled until the January meeting.

Holiday Concert
On Sunday afternoon members of the St. Mary's Senior Choir presented a program of Christmas music at Pinecrest Medicare Facility at Powers. On Sunday evening the group sang carols in the village and for the elderly and shut-ins.

President James Garfield was so erudite that he entertained friends by writing Greek with one hand and Latin with the other.

Choir, Orchestra Concert Tonight

The 67-member Escanaba Area High School Orchestra, the 140-voice Concert Choir and 33-voice Choral will present a "Christmas Hour of Music" at 7:30 p. m. today in the high school auditorium.

Admission is free and the public is invited.

The orchestra, directed by Robert Chase, will open the program with the familiar "Sleigh Ride" by Leroy Anderson. Other numbers included "Waltz" from Kachaturian's "Masquerade Suite," the popular "Carol of the Drum" by Katherine Davis, and "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring" by Bach.

The first violin section will be featured in "Capriccio," the third movement of Vivaldi's "Violino Concerto in A Minor" and Anderson's "A Christmas Festival" will close the orchestra's part of the program.

Conrad Beck will direct the Concert Choir, which will open

Escanaba Man Gets Jail Term

Roger J. Viau, 22, of 1705 1/2 Ludington St., was sentenced to 20 days in the County Jail Monday by Justice Edward Goldsworthy of Gladstone. He was also assessed $6.45 court costs.

Viau pleaded guilty to possession of stolen property — four snow tires valued at about $120 taken Oct. 28 from Ormal Wellman, Rte. 1, Bark River, police said. Viau was arrested by State Police.

The 1880-90 period in the United States was a brilliant decade for inventors. Industry introduced the incandescent lamp, the automobile, the cash register, the trolley car, the pneumatic tire, the dynamo, transparent film, electric welding, the electric furnace, steam turbine and smokeless powder.

Safe Cracking 'Amateur' Job, Police Believe

IRON MOUNTAIN—An "amateur" safe cracking job which netted thieves an undisclosed amount of cash from the Mario Branz Plumbing Co., Iron Mountain, is still under investigation today by Dickinson County law officers.

"This looks to be the work of amateurs and not professionals," said Police Chief A. J. Schupp. "It appears that it took at least two hours for the safe to be opened."

Police said entry to the building was gained by breaking a window with one person apparently crawling through the window to unlock a garage door for others to enter. The thieves knocked a five by eight inch hole in the side of the safe, using tools from the plumbing company, except for a drill and a chisel.

Calendar Pictures Area's Many Facets

Escanaba's past, present and future—as seen through the eyes of local artists—are depicted in the 1968 Escanaba city report-calendar which will be distributed on Friday this week with the Escanaba Daily Press.

Howard Smale, the city's administrative assistant, said that 4,500 copies of the report-calendar have been printed, and that persons who do not receive one on Friday with the Daily Press may call for a copy at the City Hall.

Mrs. Alice Powers, art instructor at Bay de Noc Community College, for the second year supervised the selection of illustrative material for the calendar, and drew the cover. She is also represented with a drawing for one of the months.

Inaugurated last year, the annual report that combines a calendar for the coming year received much favorable attention and was repeated because of its popularity. The artists whose work appears are:

January—Harold Joseph Gardner, 27, who has had no formal art training. His drawing of what the intersection of Highways U. S. 2-41 and M-35 may look like in the future combines ultra-streamlined autos, hovering "flying saucers" and buildings of unusual design. Gardner made his drawing while he was in the Delta County Jail. He is now in Marquette State Prison.

February—Mrs. Stack (Catherine) Smith of Lake Shore

Drive pictures the House of Ludington "one of Escanaba's oldest landmarks" in her drawing for the month. She studied at the Chicago Academy of Arts and also with the late Mrs. Margaret Cassidy and with Mrs. Alice Powers. She is presently designing and making church vestments which have a world-wide market. She also makes silver and stone jewelry and works in ceramics.

March—Mrs. David (Eileen) Brostrom of 1810 11th Ave. N. pictures Carnegie Public Library for the calendar. She has had high school art training. The wife of the Rev. David Brostrom, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church, she pictures a library building constructed in 1902-03 and now crowding its walls with books. The Brostroms came here from Wisconsin, with the community's good library facilities a factor in their decision.

April—Dan Lee of 808 S. 14th St., the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lee, has had high school art training. His subject for the calendar is the Chicago & North Western Railway passenger station in Escanaba—a picturesque reminder of the once only means of inland communications with the rest of the mid-west. A single daily passenger train serves Escanaba through the depot.

May—Mrs. Lloyd Belland of Rapid River Rte. 2 chose to refer to history (the old Merchant's Dock and its steamers Lotus and Duluth) in depicting another aspect of Escanaba. She is a native of Rapid River, majored in art at St. Mary's College, Notre Dame, Ind., and also studied at the Chicago Academy of Fine Arts and the American Academy of Arts.

June—Mrs. John H. (Suzanne) Decker of 932 N. 18th St. draws a pleasant picnic setting in Ludington Park for her contribution to the calendar. She studied art at Layton Art School, Milwaukee, and Bay de Noc Community College. She has exhibited her work and won a number of awards at the U. P. State Fair, and last year was among the painters represented in the city calendar.

July—Mrs. Victor (Alice) Powers of 612 S. 12th St. presents a busy downtown scene—"Sidewalk Day"—an annual promotion event sponsored by the Retail Division of the Chamber of Commerce. She is a fourth generation artist, has studied throughout the country, taught in Gladstone, and is now teaching art at Bay de Noc Community College. She is a second time winner.

August—Kent Macintosh, 19, is a student at Bay de Noc Community College, and his picture presents a salute to the city's public works crews. Men and equipment are depicted at work on a street improvement job. Kent's father, Neil Macintosh, is professor of political science at Northern Michigan University.

September—Mrs. Bryant (Janet) Gagnon of 1402 1st Ave. N., who has been a resident of Escanaba for 24 years, draws "the old and the new" in public schools in the area. The Washington School—new and old—combines to show one of the major educational developments in the community this year. Mrs. Gagnon is married, has one child, and has had no formal art training.

October—Bill Taylor, employed by the U. S. Forest Service, lives at Ford River. For his subject for the calendar he chose the manufacturing plant of the Birds Eye Veneer Co. The first production from the plant was in 1913 and it has had a continuing success. The products of the company now have a world-wide distribution. Taylor has had no formal art training.

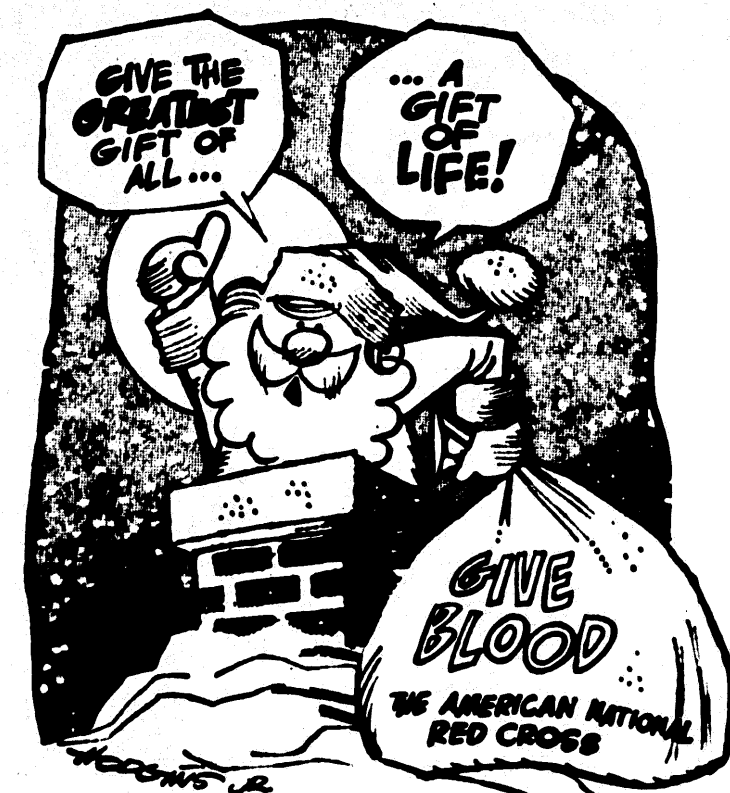

November—Mrs. Patrick (Delores) Henderson of Portage Pt. Road is a second time winner in the city calendar art contest. This year her drawing shows two children beside a mail box, waiting the arrival of the bus that is coming to transport them to school. She is the mother of seven children.

December—Mrs. Joseph (Dorothy) Vogt pictures a church scene—an appropriate subject for the month. She resides at 1012 7th Ave. S., is the mother of four children, and also won with a picture for the calendar last year. She studied art under Mrs. Victor Powers at Bay de Noc Community College.

Monroe Council OKs Fair Housing

MONROE (AP) — The City Council of this southeastern Michigan community of 24,000 voted 6-1 Monday night to enact a fair housing ordinance. None of the 70 persons on hand at the meeting objected to the measure which would prevent discrimination in the rental, leasing or sale of real estate or real estate transactions negotiated by financial institutions.

Oil Storage Tank Damaged By Fire

Fire that damaged a Gustafson Oil Co. tank on the north bay shore just south of the Chicago & North Western Railway ore dock was brought under control by 11 a. m. by city firemen and extinguished by noon-time today.

The black smoke that at first came from the fire attracted the attention of hundreds of persons, who were kept from the immediate scene by police. The tank and others in the area are in the process of being dismantled, and there was thought that the fire may have started from a spark. Firemen, however, had made no determination of the cause of the fire to noon-time, when the crews were being withdrawn.

Virtually empty except for sludge left in the bottom of the tank when the heavy oil was removed earlier this month, the tank fire was at no time a threat to the safety of the nearby North Western ore dock.

The Gustafson Oil Co. has ceased its operations there and the tanks are being dismantled in clearing the area for the expansion of the Chicago & North Western's ore terminal facility.

The fire was reported about 10:30 a. m. and flames shot upward to a height of 50 feet or more until the blaze was brought under control.

Doctors Fear 'Heart Reject' By Washkansky

in it. To curb this rejection, he had been given various drugs but they in turn tended to lower his body's normal resistance to infection.

Starting late Saturday, Washkansky was treated for pneumonia. When he did not respond to penicillin, doctors began to wonder whether the lung complications might indicate his body is trying to reject the transplanted heart. The heart was taken from Denise Ann Dervall, 25, after she was killed in an auto accident, and substituted for Washkansky's diseased heart Dec. 3.

Washkansky's appetite has been poor since the lung condition has developed. "We are disturbed about the patient's condition," said Dr. Christian N. Barnard Monday night.

Polite Gunman Gets $5,000

SANTA ANA, Calif. (AP) — A telephone-directed supermarket robbery produced $5,000 for a polite gunman and a sports car driving accomplice.

Market manager Richard Hathcock, 32, said he let into his home Monday a man who claimed he had car trouble. The man pulled an automatic pistol and ordered Hathcock to telephone instructions to assistant manager Anthony Porcillo, 35, at the store two miles away. As ordered, he put $5,000 in a paper bag and delivered it to a blue sports car idling outside.

Caution Urged When Skating

"Ice skating is fun, but it can be dangerous and for enjoyable and worry-free skating people must observe safety rules for ice skating," advises Dr. Mary Cretens, director of the Delta-Menominee District Health Department.

Dr. Cretens recommends skating only on ice rinks or on small bodies of waters such as ponds, pools or slow moving streams. She also suggested never skating alone.

"Be sure the ice is at least two inches thick (four inches

if with a large group of skaters) and never skate on crystallized ice," she continued. "Crystallized ice can crumble even if two feet thick."

Dr. Cretens also warned skaters to be sure there are no hidden, swift flowing currents, not to skate on new ice at mid-day or when temperature rises as ice weakens then, and to head for shore if ice is heard cracking.

She also recommended skating only in areas where ice is formed over water less than waist deep and to stay near the shoreline and away from open water.

"It is absolutely essential that all skaters know how to rescue someone who falls through the ice," she added.

"First, keep the victim calm. Ice chunks usually break off if he tries to pull himself out of the water. Tell him to kick his feet to the surface so he won't jackknife under the ice's edge and to extend his arms on top of the ice surface."

"Standing beyond the weakened ice, extend anything — a ladder, pole, rope, hockey stick or even a piece of clothing — to the victim," Dr. Cretens continued. "If nothing is available and there are people nearby, form a human chain, each person lying on the ice and grabbing the ankles of the person in front of him. The first person should grab the victim's wrists and the entire line should then wiggle backwards, drawing the victim to firm, safe ice."

Ask Council To Vacate Streets

The proposal to vacate streets and alleys in an area that may become a Red Owl shopping center will come to the Escanaba City Council for action when it meets Thursday at 8 p. m. in the City Hall.

The Planning Commission has recommended to the Council the vacating of the streets and alleys in the 200 and 300 blocks on N. 23rd St., a 12-acre site just south of the C & NW Railway right of way. The request came to the city from Red Owl Stores Inc., which is planning to establish a shopping center there.

The Council when it meets Thursday night will also have before it:

First reading of an ordinance to repeal an old and conflicting ordinance that provided for a housing commission back in 1947; and a request for authorization to extend the city's agreement with Airport Manager Jon Thorin for another year.

A communication of appreciation from John Edick, president of the Escanaba City Band; and a communication from the Retarded Children's Association.

P&H Awarded Defense Order

U.S. Senator Philip A. Hart announced today in Washington that Harnischfeger Corp. of Milwaukee had been awarded a defense contract to produce 28 truck cranes at a cost of $1,134,419 at its Escanaba plant.

World War I Veterans, Barracks 1128, and Auxiliary will meet today at the VFW club-rooms. A potluck supper is planned at 5 p. m. The Christmas party includes a 50 cent gift exchange.

Entering pleas of guilty through their attorney, two Escanaba pharmacists were ordered by Municipal Court on Dec. 14 to pay fines of $50 and costs of $5 each for dispensing a habit forming drug without a prescription. They are Earl Brown of 1101 6th Ave. S. and Stanley Ostman of 1205 8th Ave. S. and the charge was made against them on Oct. 4.

It Could Be Here

Harold Vanlerberghe, besides being mayor of Escanaba, is chairman of the finance committee of the Delta County Board of Supervisors. His many hats bring him more problems than honors and they bring him worries that John Average Citizen doesn't have.

One of them is about the bridges of Delta County. Because the county has so many rivers it has a lot of highways bridges — more than 50 of them. As highways have been improved the replacement of these bridges with modern structures that will bear the weight of today's heavy trucking has become a financial problem for the county and its Road Commission.

"County Highway Engineer Bill Karas has told us that the county still has 32 bad bridges," said Vanlerberghe. "Two of them — the ones at Cornell and West Gladstone — are very bad."

"When I read of the bridge collapse on the Ohio River at Point Pleasant I thought immediately of our poor bridges and that we could have a tragedy, too. School buses operate on practically all of our county roads and I dread to think that they're in the kind of peril that took so many lives at Point Pleasant."

"Our County Road Commission is doing a good job with what money it has. It is building bridges — fabricating them of steel in its shops — at far under the commercial cost of bridges."

"The County Road Commission has devised a method of building bridges with shared cost, with the township contributing a third, the board of supervisors a third and the County Road Commission a third, but the job still isn't done and all our bridges aren't safe."

"Down in Point Pleasant it's reported that they're just getting over the shock of their bridge tragedy and wondering why the bridge fell. We know why our bad bridges could fall, but we still haven't replaced all of them."

Mayor Vanlerberghe's reminder of this public need recalls the disastrous Queen of Angels school fire in Chicago several years ago. Several school districts in the Upper Peninsula voted safe, new, fireproof school buildings after that fire. The votes were overwhelming, even in places where elections asking authority to replace unsafe schools had failed repeatedly.

The old adage says that experience keeps a dear school, but that some people will learn in no other.

Trains And Dodos

According to the Interstate Commerce Commission, 89.15 per cent of all intercity traffic in the United States in 1966 was by automobile.

As for the rest of intercity travel, railroads were low man on the pole with 1.87 per cent. Buses accounted for 2.48 per cent and airlines 6.18 per cent.

It is the airplane and economics that bid fair to finish off the passenger train completely — with an assist from the Post Office Department in its decision to stop sending mail by rail.

Consider this comparison presented by William J. Quinn, president of Burlington Lines:

The Burlington's California Zephyr, operating between Chicago and Denver, averages more than twice as many passengers as does a 727 jet — 166 to 72 — and could carry more if they were available.

But while the railroad has two fast trains between Chicago and Denver, the airlines operate some 22 flights daily, and so carry more passengers over-all.

Six crewmen, including stewardesses, operate the jet; 47 operate the train. Wage costs for the one are $391 for the other, $2,288.

The train's diesels burn $500 worth of oil; the jet consumes $300 worth of kerosene.

Total revenue for the Zephyr is slightly over $5,000 per trip. For the jet, it is slightly over $3,400. But expenses for the Zephyr add up to $5,400; for the 727, $2,500.

Thus for every trip the train makes, it loses about $400; for every trip the plane makes, it earns about $900.

Then there is the jet's speed, which is as pleasing to the accountant as it is to the traveler. The jet makes the trip in two hours; the train in 18½ hours. In terms of revenue per hour, the jet earns nearly $500. The train loses some $20 an hour. For every passenger it carries, the plane earns $13.12 for the airline. For every passenger the train carries, the railroad loses $2.07.

Despite these dismal statistics, Quinn sees some sort of future for the passenger train — if the nation wants to spend the money for it. A high-speed, de luxe train operating along a crossing-free corridor between Boston, New York and Washington, and riding on cushions of air instead of wheels, is one possibility under study.

An entirely new form of technology like this is needed, says Quinn, if the passenger train is to offset the high-cost burden which is presently sending it toward the same fate as the passenger pigeon.

Life Span Impasses

Like the folks in Kansas City in the song, we seem to have gone about as far as we can go in increasing life expectancy, for the time being anyway.

Between 1900 and 1956, expected life span at birth for all persons increased by over 20 years, says statisticians at Metropolitan Insurance Co. Since then, it has improved by less than a year.

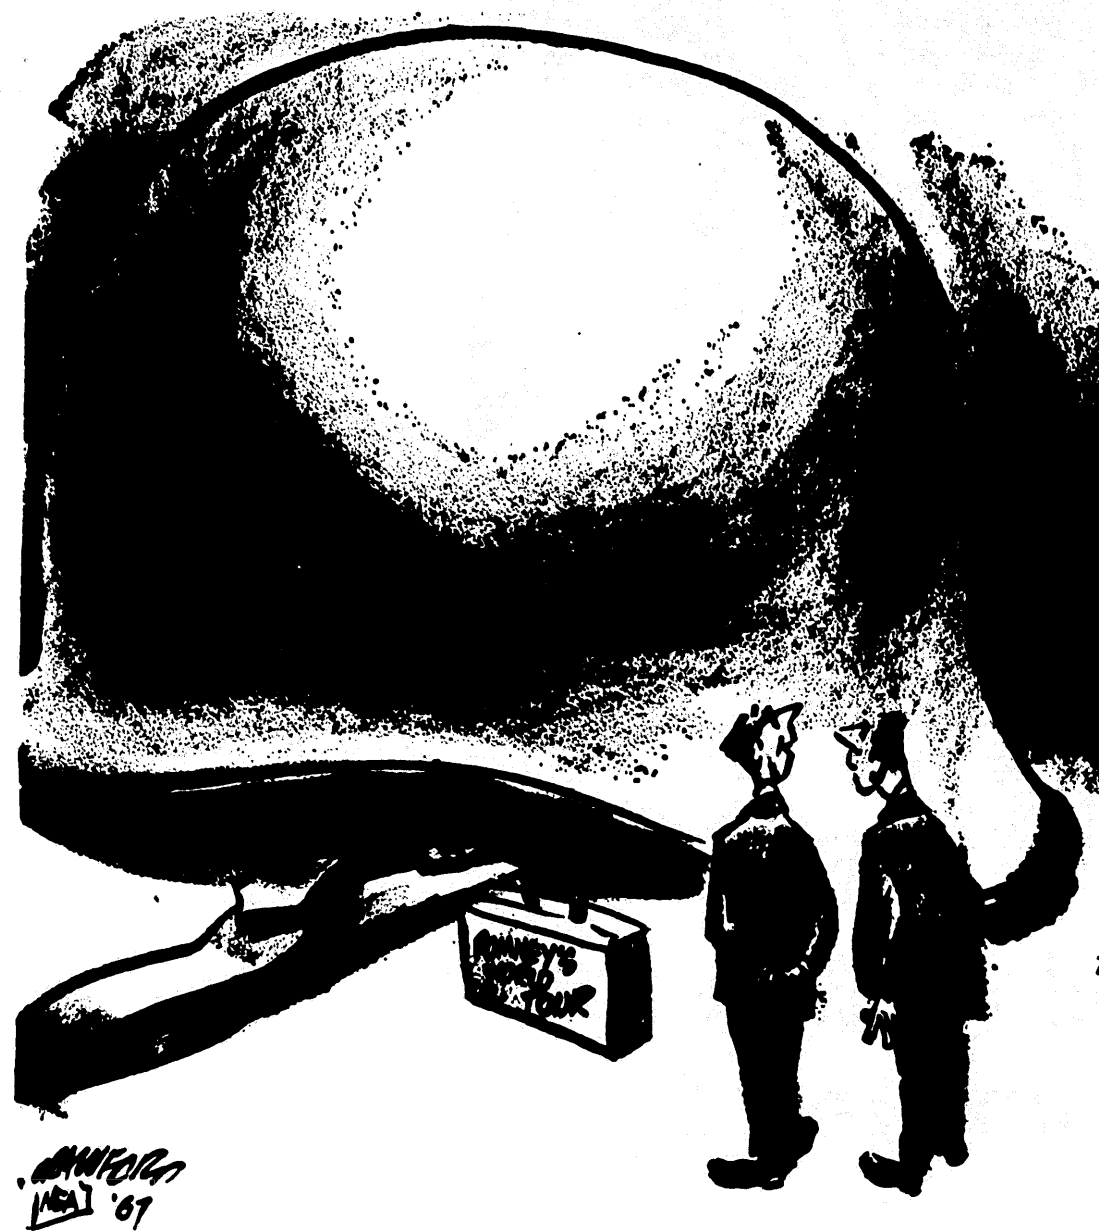

Average length of life in 1965, last year for which final figures are available, was 70.2 years, the same as it was in 1964 and 1961.

The change in the first half of the century was due in large part to the conquest of the once-dreaded childhood diseases. Their elimination, together with advances in every branch of medicine, had dramatic effects on the average expectation of life.

We now seem to have reached an impasse with respect to the diseases of middle and old age, particularly heart disease and cancer.

Not until these two are vanquished, and until we learn more about the process of aging itself, will there be any breakthrough much beyond the traditional three-score and ten.

"You Can Bet Your Sweet Life There'll Be No Brainwashing This Time!"

McCarthy Dilemma: Questions And Answers

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Friends of Sen. Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota say that today the chances of his entering the kickoff presidential primary in New Hampshire are no more than 50-50.

A few weeks ago, these backers indicate, the senator had all but decided upon a whirlwind New Hampshire effort involving as many as perhaps 30 days of on-scene campaigning.

Fresh appraisal of the outlook there suggests to the McCarthy forces, however, that this first key primary would be much tougher to win than was originally thought.

Significantly, it was this judgment, not the possible scheduling difficulties the senator might develop if he decides to visit Vietnam, which associates stressed in discussing New Hampshire.

If McCarthy should still choose to enter that primary (most likely against some stand-in for President Johnson), the decision probably will not be made until the holidays. And the senator might limit himself to just a few speech appearances there.

Now that he has added Massachusetts to his roster of primary states, the pressure to enter New Hampshire may be diminished. He has satisfied the obvious requirement that he do battle somewhere on the eastern seaboard.

Nevertheless, the altered appraisal of his New Hampshire prospects could be symptomatic of conditions McCarthy may encounter in other states where first judgments were rather optimistic.

In Wisconsin, for instance, one respected observer told this reporter that, though the Minnesotan has a chance to win national convention delegates in three congressional districts, he might well wind up winning nothing at all in the April 2 primary. He is said to be strongest in the 2nd, site of Madison's academic complex, with the 10th (northwest Wisconsin) and 5th (north Milwaukee) following in that order.

Even if McCarthy won those three, he would still own just a handful of Wisconsin's 1968 delegates (the total was 46 votes in 1964). The President, whose name would automatically be on the ballot there under Wisconsin law if he were a candidate, would get the bulk.

California, where the prize would be huge (154 votes in 1964) and the senator would likely face another Johnson stand-in, is widely thought to be McCarthy's best bet. Yet even here some appraisers think he would have more trouble than the early talk suggested.

Led by the strongly left-leaning California Democratic Council, the antiwar, anti-Johnson elements are large and potent. But many established party figures are ranged on the President's side, and veteran observers stop short of forecasting their defeat on a pro-Johnson delegate slate. It is winner take all in California.

Massachusetts, McCarthy's newest primary state, may turn out to be his most promising. This judgment, by a correspondent familiar with the state, is founded on the likelihood of an extremely tight primary vote — in which the militant antiwar groups in the Boston-Cambridge area might bulk very large.

The same appraiser argues, however, that if the generally hawkish Democratic electorate of Massachusetts were fully aroused, McCarthy could take a clobbering there. A typical low-key campaign might serve him better than one heavily charged with the academic community's emotionalism.

Massachusetts, California and Wisconsin clearly are the senator's brightest prospects, but the indications today are that these and all his other 1968 undertakings may be much tougher than he and his backers imagine even in their most realistic moments.

Win At Bridge by Jacoby & Son West's Bidding Hints Singleton care about criticism. He wanted to win.

Here is a hand from a rubber bridge game that illustrates this. Ivan refused to take a sure profit against seven clubs. He ruffed the opening club lead and led a trump to dummy's king. Then he led back a trump and proceeded to think for some time after East played the seven spot.

The standard play would be to go up with the ace or queen and, as you can see, the standard play would have lost. Everyone would have said, "Tough luck." There would have been no criticism.

Ivan played his nine. If West had produced the jack or ten, North would have exploded. East, West and the kibitzers would all have laughed, and there would be a story going around about the expert who couldn't handle a 3-2 trump break.

All this meant nothing to Ivan. He decided West's bidding had shown a singleton spade. Ivan wanted to win and did.

Abundance And Concern Mark Yule; Romney

LANSING (AP)—An unprecedented combination of abundance and concern mark the nation's Christmas season this year, said Gov. George Romney today in a yuletide message to the people of Michigan.

The message was taped by the governor before his departure Dec. 7 on a near month-long tour of 13 nations from Europe to Southeast Asia and was made available to the state's broadcast stations.

"History does not record a Christmas season when this country has experienced the combination of abundance and concern which occupies us all at this time of year," Romney said.

"On the one hand, many know the good life of good jobs and happy homes," he said. "Yet countless others remain in poverty here at home while half a million of our young men are waging war on the other side of the Pacific."

"I wish it were possible for every loved one to be with his sailor, soldier, Marine or Air Force man at this time of year — and preferably be here at home," said Romney, who plans to spend the holidays visiting Vietnam.

"The whole story of Christmas is the birth of the Prince of Peace," he said. "And New Year is a time of individual and national resolve."

"On these cornerstones may we voice our prayers both for the blessing we have received and for the restoration of peace and tranquility based on the brotherhood of man," Romney said.

"Let us who know comfort not become content until all shall know the benefits of peace on earth, goodwill toward men."

Lt. Gov. William Milliken, filling in for Romney during his absence, will play host Wednesday at a traditional cider and cookies party for state employees in the governor's office.

Personal Income Takes Big Jump

WASHINGTON (AP)—Personal income took its biggest jump in more than two years during November, with rising wages and salaries accounting for the bulk of the gain, the Commerce Department reported Monday.

Income rose by $5.8 billion at an annual rate during the month to reach a record pace at $641.7 billion. It was the biggest advance since September 1965.

The department said wages and salaries increased by $5.4 billion and only $2 billion of this stemmed from the ending of automobile and other strikes which had depressed payrolls the previous two months.

Continued economic expansion accounted for most of the gain in payrolls, the department added.

Ann Landers Matchmakers Have Widower Tired Out

Dear Ann Landers: The other day I went to the basement to get the clothes off the line. I discovered that our dog Pal had pulled all the clothes down and I was furious. Pal knew he was in trouble because when I went upstairs to get him and show him what he had done, he was cowering in the corner and refused to budge. He has done this before and I've been trying to break him of the habit, but I haven't had any luck.

I was determined to get Pal downstairs and spank him but he was just as determined not to go. Pal is an 85-pound German shepherd, and you might as well try to pick up a grand piano. So I took the broom and began to shove him down the stairs.

At that moment two teenage girls were passing the house. Our side door was open and they saw me prodding Pal with the broom. They yelled for me to stop beating the dog. One girl said I was cruel and inhuman and that she was going to report me to the S.P.C.A. Both girls were on the verge of tears. I tried to explain but they refused to hear my side of it. So, Ann, I want the girls to know I was not beating the dog, merely trying to discipline him. If the S.P.C.A. comes to our house, I'll die of embarrassment. Thank you very much. — ANIMAL LOVER

Dear Lover: Here's your letter and I hope the girls see it. I also hope your husband buys you a clothes dryer for Christmas.

Dear Ann Landers: Please print my response to the lonely widow who signed herself "Discouraged." She wanted to know where all the eligible men are hiding.

Dear Discouraged: I am not hiding. I am resting. I'm a professional man with no money problems, a widower in my early 30's. I have a son I'm proud of. I'm resting because I am tired of matchmakers who have tried for three years to pawn off every available old maid, career girl, widow and divorcee they know.

I'm tired of being told I should get married because my son needs a mother. I know it. But I also need a wife. Most of all, I'm tired of being told there are no available gentlemen over 30 in this world. I have run into two major problems. (1) Women who are not ladies. (When will marriage-minded females learn that no lasting friendship ever started in bed?) (2) Ladies who are not women. (Being soft, looking pretty and smelling nice does not add up to honesty, good morals or that vital spark that makes a man want to see a woman again and again.)

So, Honey, if you qualify, don't sit around and wait for me to find you. Join clubs, even if the people seem seedy. A jewel will sparkle anywhere. Go on dates even if you have to use judo to defend yourself once in a while. To put it bluntly, stay in circulation. If you sit home I'll never find you. — STILL LOOKING

Dear Still: When you're through resting, you'd better go into hiding. You sound too good to be true.

Confidential to Diamonds Are A Girl's Best Friend: Sorry, but the cash register in the background was making so much noise I could scarcely hear the wedding bells. Was it marriage or a merger you were talking about? My advice (which I'm sure you will ignore) is to cool this relationship until you find out what else he has to offer. So far all I can see is Security.

Unsure of yourself on dates? What's right? What's wrong? Should you? Shouldn't you? Send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Dating Do's and Don'ts," enclosing with your request $3c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Minisub Tracks Ocean Porpoises

SAN PEDRO, Calif. (AP) — "It's a ghastly way to travel," says Prof. Ken Norris of the odd contraption he calls his "seasick machine."

Realizing it will make him sick, Norris squeezed inside the cramped craft today and set out on an underwater voyage tailing porpoises for science and the Navy.

The goal: Finding out why the porpoise "does a lot of things better than the Navy."

The minisubmarine is an $8,000 conversion of a jet plane fuel tank, equipped with an air supply and steering controls and filled halfway with plastic foam for buoyancy.

In the 25-mile trip from this coastal city south of Los Angeles to Catalina Island, Norris will study the swimming and sonar abilities of the seagoing mammals. The project caught the eye of the Navy, which gave him a $15,000 grant for what it calls MOC, mobile observation chamber.

Norris, a 42-year-old associate professor of zoology at the University of California at Los Angeles, has dubbed it the USS Semisubmersible Seasick Machine.

From inside the 2-by-3-by-4-foot vehicle, the stocky naturalist commands a 360-degree view of the ocean. His contraption is mainly towed five feet below the surface behind a motorboat—1,200 feet away so the porpoises won't be frightened.

The pod recently has been equipped with a 50-horsepower outboard engine for more maneuverability.

SANTA and the PIGWIDGEN

By LUCRECE BEALE

Synopsis: Claus finds the key to open the door. Beyond the wall are bands of relicking pygmies and flying reindeer. When the pygmies catch the deer, Tweedleknies tries to save them.

CHAPTER THIRTEEN THE PYGMIES

The pygmies stared at Patrick Tweedleknies.

"Who are you? What are you doing here?" they demanded.

The elf glared back but he had never been so scared. He could not imagine how he had found the courage to face the fierce pygmies.

He saw the reindeer flying overhead. They rose and dipped, round and round, like horses on a merry-go-round.

"You said you were going to have reindeer meat for supper," growled Tweedleknies.

"And why not?"

"You ought to be ashamed!" exploded the elf.

The pygmies burst into laughter. "Very well! We'll have elf meat instead!"

They pounced on Tweedleknies. He twisted and writhed and bit and clawed and wormed out of their hands. He snatched up a sword and slashed off the head of the nearest pygmy.

The pygmy picked up his head and put it back on his neck. "You are a wild one!" he said admiringly. "We'll take you to our king."

"And who is your king?" asked someone. It was Claus. Unseen he had come into their midst.

"The Pigwidgen," said the pygmy. "The most powerful creature on earth."

Claus' knees shook. He wondered how he could conquer

No matter how much was eaten, the pot stayed full.

creatures who could not even lose their heads.

He tried to speak but before he could find his voice Patrick Tweedleknies said grandly, "Claus is more powerful than your old king!"

"Oh ho!" shouted the pygmies. "We shall see!"

They seized Claus and Tweedleknies and carried them off to the castle. "We will eat while we wait for the king," they announced.

Tweedleknies wondered if they meant to have him for dinner but the pygmies bent over a tiny pot of stew. They filled their bowls and ate greedily. The pot was so small Claus could not understand how it could feed so many.

He leaned over the pot. To his surprise he saw it was as full as it had been at the start. The pygmies had seconds and thirds and fourths and all the time the pot stayed full.

"Does the pot never empty?" asked Claus.

"Never," boasted a pygmy. "If you are so powerful surely you have such a pot, too."

Claus shook his head and Tweedleknies exclaimed, "He could have if he wanted but it so happens he does not care for stew."

"What then does the great Claus like?" asked the pygmies with interest.

Claus turned on Tweedleknies. "Say no more!" he begged, for he knew not what awful boast the elf might make.

But Tweedleknies would not be quiet. "He likes roast pig!" he blurted. "And he can eat more than you or your old Pigwidgen can any time of day!"

At that moment the castle door slammed and the Pigwidgen himself entered the hall. Tomorrow: The Eating Contest

Party Raid Nets Marijuana, Guns

CHICAGO (AP)—Two Michigan girls were among 10 persons arrested in a North Side apartment where police said they found three pistols and a large quantity of marijuana.

Police said those arrested are members of the Chicago Outlaws, a motorcycle group. The raid was a result of neighbors complaining of wild parties at the apartment.

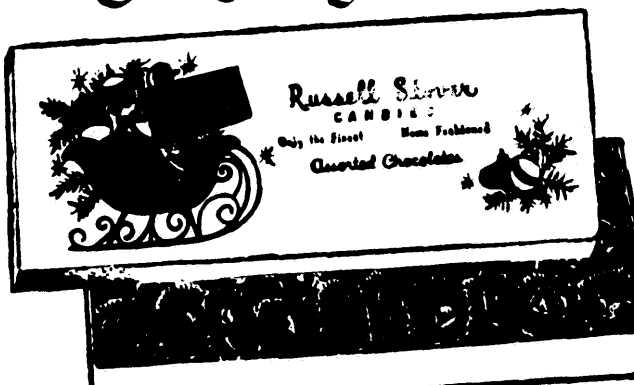

Among those arrested and charged with being inmates of a disorderly apartment were Linda Roberts, 21, of Hazel Park, Mich.; Elizabeth Fizett, 21, of Royal Oak, Mich.; Harold Henderson, 23, of Gary, Ind., and Cynthia Redhead, 19, of Youngstown, Ohio.

St. Francis Tells Cast For Crib Procession

Confessions will be heard in St. Francis de Sales Church Friday and Saturday from 4 to 6 and 7 to 9 p.m. Masses Sunday will be at regular times, 8, 10 and 11:30 a.m. No confessions will be heard Sunday.

Church doors will open Sunday at 11 p.m., and all adults have been asked to be in place by 11:15 p.m. for the Christmas Eve service.

The procession to the crib begins at midnight. Sally Carlson is the Christmas angel and attending her will be Lea Faketty, Wendy Guertin, Carol Wilcock and Michele Wuehle. Christmas heralds are John Pat Boudreau and Jerome Gregrush Jr.

Offerings on Christmas will be for Catholic Social Services.

Cuts Work Force

DETROIT (AP) — Parke, Davis & Co. announced Monday it will reduce its work force by "several hundred persons" and make changes in some of its programs, including research, to improve its earnings.

MANISTIQUE

Tell Divine Infant Midnight Mass Plan

A music program will be presented one half hour before the Midnight Mass in Divine Infant of Prague Church Christmas Eve. Choral and instrumental music will be provided, including a number scored for 2-and 3-voice harmony, using guitar and organ. The music is under direction of Mrs. Richard Marsh, who will play the guitar during the ceremony.

During the Mass carols will be sung, with a number of them accompanied by guitar. Michael McGregor will play the drum for "The Little Drummer Boy," and Patti McGregor will play the organ for "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring." Other carols will be "Rise Up Shepherd and Follow," "O Holy Night," "The Jamaican Christmas Carol," and "Virgin Mary."

At Mass the choir will sing and lead the congregation in Ray Repp's "Mass for Young Americans," adapted and arranged by Mrs. Marsh and in carols. Playing guitars with Mrs. Marsh will be Pal-Lee Belcik, Denise Burrell, Albert Goudreau, Ed and Bob Lancour and Patti McGregor. Confessions will be heard before Mass Sunday, Dec. 24 and later that day from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. Christmas offerings will be for social services of the Diocese of Marquette.

Washington Pair Wed In Tavern

EAST WENATCHEE, Wash. (AP) — It was Sunday and the barmaid in Hugo's Tavern was dressed in a new Santa Claus suit. An old poker table was laden with gifts, cake, liquid refreshments and a large buffet turkey dinner.

Then, as guests crowded into the tavern, Justice of the Peace Cora E. Lake stepped up and married 70-year-old James Dreskin and Bertha Jackson, who confided she was 55.

How come in a tavern on a Sunday?

"Well," said Mrs. Alice Tostall, one of the proprietors, "they were both widowed, both kind of lonely, and they said that's where all their friends were, so that's where they wanted it. It was real nice."

Human Cities Are Top Need

ANN ARBOR — It is up to man to mold the city of the future for his own benefit, 2,000 new graduates of the University of Michigan were told Saturday.

"This megalopolis will be a continuous urban area which should not crush man as it threatens to do at present; but, built in a human scale, it should preserve all human values and help man to develop further and better," Constantinos A. Doxiadis said at U-M's winter commencement.

The Athenian city planner, who is at work on defining the future of the Detroit area, received an honorary doctor of laws degree.

Doxiadis said that when the University of Michigan, now 150 years old, celebrates its 300th anniversary, the present Detroit and Ann Arbor will linger only as a monument. While only 60 per cent or less of the city of the year 2000 has not yet been built or committed, man can still build a fresh 80 per cent of the city his children will inherit and 90 per cent of his grandchildren's city.

"This is the task of your generation," Doxiadis told the graduates, "easier in the sense that others found at last the need of turning around, more difficult in the sense that you will have to continue to turn, to define the proper course and consolidate it. Your great challenge is to turn what is unavoidable, the great city of man which is extra-human in dimension and threatens to become inhuman, into a city with human content."

Case Continued

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP) — A St. Joseph woman charged with running a school stop sign had good reason not to appear in Municipal Court Monday as scheduled.

Judge W. Harry Wilson reported an attorney called to say the woman was involved in an accident on her way to court and had been taken to a hospital for examination. The judge continued her case.

Nonfarm Jobs Jump 90,000

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's nonfarm employment rose 90,000 between mid-October and mid-November, reported Malcolm Lovell Jr., director of the State Employment Security Commission.

Lovell said the nonfarm employment reached 3,249,800, up from 3,160,800. Most of the gains occurred in manufacturing. Lovell said, as several major labor disputes involving more than 75,000 workers were settled. Private nonmanufacturing recorded a modest gain, primarily as a result of the preholiday upswing in retail trade. Government employment also edged up slightly.

The current nonfarm employment figure was reported more than 25,000 above a year ago.

Unemployment still rose from 113,000 in October to 126,000 in November as cold weather curtailed outdoor activities and the approach of Christmas resulted in a surge of job-seekers.

Overload Causes Kazoo Blackout

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Overloaded power lines cut off electricity to about 1,500 homes and businesses for about 3½ hours Monday morning on Kalamazoo's Northeast Side.

Consumer's Power Co. officials said the cause of the overload was unknown.

In the blacked out area was Borgess Hospital which operated with auxiliary power units.

Police said the loss of power also affected street lights but no more accidents than usual were reported.

Tin Cans Litter Interstate Route

JACKSON (AP) — A semi-trailer, loaded with 14,000 pounds of tin cans, overturned on Interstate 94 at Jackson Monday morning, spewing its load over the highway.

The highway had to be closed for 15 minutes to clean up the cans.

William Zimmerman, 54, of Belwood, Ill., the driver, said the trailer became unlocked, slid into a ditch and overturned.

Dave Beck Is Honeymooning In Honolulu

SEATTLE (AP) — Dave Beck is honeymooning in Honolulu.

He was married here secretly Dec. 5, it was revealed Monday with the return of the marriage certificate to the Mason County auditor's office in Shelton, Wash.

The 73-year-old former head of the giant Teamsters Union obtained his license in Shelton last month. The wedding ceremony was performed here by the Rev. Allan W. Lee, pastor of the First Christian Church.

Beck and his bride, the former Helen L. Reynolds of Seattle, left for Hawaii a week ago and intended they planned to be wed there. They expect to return to the mainland Dec. 29 and attend the Rose Bowl game in Pasadena, Calif.

The marriage was the second for Beck and the first for his bride, a long-time friend of the Beck family. She was a secretary for a company on Seattle's film row. Beck's first wife, Dorothy, died in 1961.

Mrs. Herman Kleiman Jr. (Gordon Nelson Studio)

Lorraine Smith Bride Of Herman Kleiman Jr.

St. George's Church in Bark River was the setting Saturday, Dec. 9 for the wedding of Lorraine Marie Smith of Rte. 1 Bark River and Herman Gerald Kleiman Jr. of Rte. 1, Wilson.

The Rev. Thomas Dunleavy officiated at the double ring ceremony at 2 p. m. Providing traditional wedding music was the St. George Choir.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Allan F. Smith of Rte. 1 Bark River and Mr. and Mrs. Herman C. Kleiman Sr. of Rte. 1 Wilson.

White Satin

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, John Smith, wore an Empire styled gown of white satin fashioned with long sleeves and a modified scoop neckline. Brocade flower appliques detailed the front of the gown. A chapel length train formed the back detail.

A cluster of organza petals secured her shoulder length veil of illusion and she carried a bouquet of white carnations and pink roses.

A cluster of organza petals secured her shoulder length veil of illusion and she carried a bouquet of white carnations and pink roses.

Matron of honor for her sister was Mrs. Rodney LaMarche of Escanaba and bridesmaids were Rosella Hill of Green Bay and Betty Pepin of Escanaba.

They were attired in floor length gowns of light blue chiffon over peacock blue brocade and they carried bouquets of white carnations with blue trim.

Flower Girl

Maria Schoen of Hermansville, a niece of the bride, was the flower girl and was attired in a white satin gown. She carried white miniature carnations with blue ribbon trim. Carrying the rings was Terry Szopin-ski of Minneapolis, a nephew of the bridegroom.

Serving as bestman for his brother was Ronald Kleiman of Wilson and groomsmen were Rodney LaMarche of Escanaba and Thomas DeMerse of Escanaba. Seating the guests were Michael Fusek of Green Bay and James Smith of Bark River.

Mothers' Attire

Mrs. Smith chose a beige and silver metallic A-line dress with blue accessories for her daughter's wedding and Mrs. Kleiman wore a two piece silver and white metallic suit with white accessories. Both mothers were presented corsages of white carnations and pink roses.

The wedding reception was held from 4 to 8 p. m. at the Bark River Community Hall. Assisting were Sandy Hull, Mrs. Clyde Schoen, Donna Remondin and Mrs. Ronald Kleiman.

The newlyweds will make their home in Powers. The bride is a graduate of Bark River-Harris High School and Mr. Kleiman is a graduate of Powers Spalding High School.

Candlelight Service Set At Immanuel

The Luther League of Immanuel Lutheran Church is presenting an inspirational candlelight service entitled, "At the Name of Jesus", Wednesday evening, Dec. 20 at 8 p. m.

The program will begin with the reading of the theme verse, Philippians 2:9-11, by the program's narrator, Kris Gauthier. The candlelight procession will enter singing, "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name".

In the chorus-speaking choir are: Debbie Allen, Sandy Els, Darlene Erickson, Lola Gerdeen, Jean Grenfell, Virginia Olson, Marcia Oslund, Lynn Pelaja, Sharon Thorbjornsen and Lois Wellman.

Other speaking parts will be by Linda Meier, Sharon Thorbjornsen, Lynn Brietzman and Tom Jensen.

The Christmas message will be portrayed through singing, symbols, narration and chorus reading. The lighting features will be handled by Don Fehrenbach and Tom Ryan. The ushers, from the Junior League are Earl Carlson, Paul Erickson, Bob Gerdeen, Randy Johnson and Paul Patterson. Everyone is invited to attend.

ONE OF THE MANY local extension groups displaying gift and decorative ideas at the recent Home Extension tea held here at Bethany Lutheran Church was the Double Five group from Escanaba. They made stuffed toys which will be turned over to a local charitable organization for distribution to children for Christmas. FASHION IN UNIFORMS Uniforms designed for "women in white" are so beguiling that women in other fields are adopting them, too. (Modish professional-type uniforms are created for comfort, with lines that do not restrict body movements, whether worn by hospital nurses, beauticians or by other women with active jobs. Three-piece pantsuits, tent dresses and slim culottes are styled along the most fashionable lines and are made of practical machine-washable fabrics.

Deck The Halls With Date-Pecan Balls

Holiday date-pecan balls, again mix lightly. Add pecans ready to defrost and serve festively pyramided, dusted with powdered sugar and topped with a gay Christmas ornament, will make the most eatable Yule tree ever to grace your party table. To prepare these delightful date balls, you'll need:

1 cup (2 sticks) soft butter
1/4 cup granulated sugar
2 teaspoons vanilla
2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
2 cups finely ground pecans
1 cup (8 oz. package) diced dates

Begin by creaming butter and sugar. Then add vanilla and mix lightly. Add flour and Shape the mixture into balls, using 1 heaping teaspoon per ball. Refrigerate for 1 to 2 hours.

Place 1 inch apart on ungreased cookie sheet. Bake in preheated oven at 350° for 20 minutes, or until very lightly browned.

Remove from oven and roll at once in confectioners sugar. Cool. Sprinkle generously with confectioners sugar.

These date-pecan balls freeze very well. However, if you are planning to freeze them, do not sprinkle them with confectioners sugar until you are braising liquid.

When you are braising beef brisket add a bay leaf to the braising liquid.

Chic, Curly Cropped Tops

NEW YORK — (NEA) — What's happening to hair is just about the biggest beauty news since Cleopatra artistically dabbed in face paint.

Hair is short and curly, must be flattering to your profile as well as full face and it should soften your features and favor your ears if you've selected a style that bares them.

The "go" generation of fashion-wise young women is fast becoming expert at quick-change artistry. Their many scenes, constantly shifting from office to theater, from leisure to a happening, require different moods and different looks.

Adolf Biecker, American president of Intercoiffure, an international group of hairdressers, says, "The return is to elegance and sheer femininity. Fat, plump finger curls are in, even the cascades from the crown, falling to the nape of the neck in ringlets, as may be seen in 'Gone With the Wind.'"

Intercoiffure was formed in 1912 by a handful of European hairdressers and its purpose was to exchange ideas and to find new methods and techniques in hairdressing.

It is now international and Biecker explained, "their principles are highly ethical business, clean shops all over the world, high hair fashion in any city or country and an exchange of clientele." The last point is especially important since many women today are making transatlantic hops as often as once a year and remain abroad for a few weeks. Of necessity, they need a reliable shop in which to have their hair done.

What kind of a curlytop you wear, naturally, will depend on you. It will depend on your current fashion look as well as your face and features. Today's curls help shape the over-all silhouette, in addition to framing or accenting facial contours.

"The mini-curl features scalp-hugging curls, fingered into shape while still wet, and emphasizes good bone structure. The tousled curl is popular with those who like the casual look. It is an in-between length of curl, slightly puffed on top with sidebrushed bangs. will be in vogue," says Biecker. Women must learn to select SMALL, CURLY AND ROMANTIC are the shapes for winter hairdos. Don't be misguided by believing the cropped heads are only for the very young. Some very sophisticated types look well coiffed in short hair, too.

Long Packer Injury List Cause For Concern; Two New Cripples This Week

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — There's cause for concern in Green Bay. Christmas is six days away and there's still no snow on the ground and the beloved Packers have problems. The defending professional football champions meet the Los Angeles Rams in Milwaukee Saturday for the National Football League's Western Conference title. Normally that would be no cause for alarm on the part of Packer fans, but 1967 has not been a normal Packer season.

The regular schedule came to an end Sunday as the Packers lost 24-17 to the lightly held Pittsburgh Steelers. While the Packers were fumbling away the Steeler game, the Rams were humbling previously unbeaten Baltimore 34-10 for their second big victory in two games. The first was over the Packers, 27-24. The Rams were seemingly eliminated from the race by the Packers two weeks ago, but a blocked punt in the final minute led to the Rams victory. The Packers go into the rematch with an already big injury list bigger than ever. Reserve end Allan Brown ruptured a kidney and reserve tackle Steve Wright cracked a rib against the Steelers. Coach Vince Lombardi also disclosed that starting halfback Donny Anderson was nursing a bruised hip and that fullbacks Jim Grabowski and Ben Wilson still were ailing. Grabowski has not played much in seven weeks and remains a doubtful player in Saturday's game. Wilson played against the Steelers despite sore ribs. His ribs still were sore after the game, and so was his left foot.

"Outside of that, (the injuries) I've got no worries," said Lombardi. The coach, who would like to guide Green Bay to a third straight NFL crown, wouldn't admit that the game Saturday posed any special challenge for him. Veteran guard Jerry Kramer, discussing the Rams, said, "They've become so much better because they think they're better. The end result is that they are better. "They begin to think they're unbeatable. I'm sure they feel that way now. "If we can upset them early and break up their confidence a little, we might get them thinking about things again."

Eastern bumped the Cowboys on the strength of sophomore Earle Higgins, 30 points. The taller Hurons outscored Hardin-Simmons 63-32, with Higgins grabbing 16. The Cowboys pulled to within nine points, 64-55, at one point early in the second half, but Eastern ripped off a string of nine straight points and was never headed. The victory was Eastern's fifth against one loss. Hardin-Simmons now stands 2-5. The tournament, commemorating Wayne State's 100th anniversary, ends Wednesday with the winners of today's semifinals meeting for the championship.

Champion Keeps Top Net Rating NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Billie Jean King of Long Beach, Calif., the U.S. and Wimbledon champion, retained her No. 1 United States Lawn Tennis Association ranking. Mrs. King also won the doubles and mixed-doubles competition at Wimbledon, giving an easy job to the USLTA's women's ranking committee, which announced its recommended ratings Monday.

Northern Wildcats Win First Game In Tourney

DETROIT (AP)—Host Wayne State immediately moved out of the limelight in its own Centennial Classic basketball tournament, but two other potent Michigan teams along with Maine and rugged South Dakota State moved into the winners bracket. Today's semifinals pits run-and-shoot Northern Michigan against up-and-coming Eastern Michigan while Maine takes on South Dakota State.

In the loser's bracket, Wayne State meets Central Michigan and Washington University of St. Louis is pitted against Hardin-Simmons. Northern's Wildcats hit a blistering 50 per cent in dumping Washington 89-57 in the first round Monday. In other first round games, Maine bombed Wayne State 93-75, South Dakota State nipped Central Michigan 84-81 and Eastern Michigan dismantled Hardin-Simmons' Cowboys 105-80. Northern's 6-foot-6 center, Ted Rose, notched 23 points in pacing the Wildcats to their fourth victory in six games. Sophomore Joe Young topped Washington, now 2-4, with 17.

Jim Stephenson scored 31 points in leading Maine to an easy 90-75 triumph over Wayne State. The victory was Wayne's second in six games. Wayne, hitting only 35 per cent of its Wilt Is Back Among Leaders NEW YORK (AP)—Remember Wilt Chamberlain, the National Basketball Association's greatest scorer? Well, he's back. The 76er ace, concentrating on rebounding and playmaking most of this season, exploded for 68 points against Chicago last Saturday night and 47 against Seattle Sunday to pass the 24,000-point career mark, with 24,150, and move from 16th to seventh in the current scoring race. League statistics released today show Chamberlain has 708 points; leads in field goal percentage, .535; is first in rebounds, 803, and second in assists, 220. Dave Bing of Detroit is the scoring leader with 588 points for a 28-point per game average; San Diego's Jon McGlocklin leads in free throw percentage at .881 and Len Wilkens of St. Louis tops the playmakers with 254 assists.

Coach Of Year Allen, Shula Share Honor NEW YORK (AP)—George Allen of the Los Angeles Rams and Don Shula of the Baltimore Colts share the National Football League Coach of the Year honors in the voting of an Associated Press panel. Allen and Shula each received 16 votes from the committee of sports writers and sportscasters, three from each league city. Vince Lombardi of Green Bay drew six votes, Alie Sherman of New York got three, George Halas of the Chicago Bears and Blanton Collier of the Cleveland Browns two each and Tom Fears of New Orleans one. Two members of the panel did not submit votes in this category in the poll that was taken before the final games. Allen drew solid support for his fine job in bringing the Rams through a 14-game season with an 11-1-2 record, winding up with eight straight victories including a dramatic 27-24 win over Green Bay to stay alive and a final 34-10 triumph over Baltimore which had been unbeaten. Although the Rams and Colts finished with identical 11-1-2 record in the Coastal Division, the margin of points in the two games between the clubs (they tied 24-24 on Oct. 15), was in favor of Los Angeles. Consequently, the Rams go into Saturday's game with Green Bay at Milwaukee, Wis., for the Western Conference title. It was the second year in Los Angeles for Allen, who created

College Grid Fans Increase NEW YORK (AP)—College football attendance rose to a record 26.4 million in 1967 when each game averaged 431 more spectators than the year before, the National Collegiate Sports Services said Monday. The total attendance of 26,430,639 was an increase of 1,154,740, or 4.57 per cent, over the 1966 total which was the previous high. The Big Ten led in average attendance, 57,036 per game, while the Atlantic Coast Conference had the biggest jump in average, 12.28, per cent over its 1966 figure.

Slim U.P. Prep Slate

One Perfect Team Will Fall This Week

By JIM TRETHEWEY

One of the three unbeaten eastern Upper Peninsula schoolboy quintets will tumble while in the central U.P., a high-flying Crystal Falls outfit will undergo its most severe test in a week of basketball action cut short by the approaching holidays.

Both DeTour and Brimley lost much of the talent which gave them winning records last winter, but that hasn't stopped either from remaining in the dwindling list of undefeated quintets. DeTour seems to have more scoring power, but Brimley, which hasn't gone over 56 points in five games, is using an airtight defense to stop its opponents.

Chappell Stars As Pistons Win

TACOMA, Wash. (AP)—Len Chappell? The Detroit Pistons could have sent him to a super-market last week to sign autographs and no self-respecting kid would have asked. But the journeyman forward may find himself inking a few scorecards when the Pistons return to Detroit the day after Christmas.

The former Wake Forest All-American notched 30 points, 28 in the second half, in leading Detroit to a 140-122 victory over the Seattle Sonics Monday night. It was the only National Basketball association game on tap.

The victory snapped a three-game Detroit losing streak and came after Detroit trailed the Sonics 66-59 at the half. Chappell, picked up on waivers from the Cincinnati Royals about a month ago, paid a handsome dividend when he hit 12 of 14 shots in the second half. Detroit scored nine straight points after the intermission, but the game was tied at 77-all and 79-79 until Chappell hit a driving lay-up with 4:34 to go in the third period. The Pistons never trailed again. Rod Thorn, hitting on 12 of 19 field goal attempts, led the Sonics with 29 points. Dave Bing had 29 for Detroit and Terry Dischinger added 27. The Pistons continue an extended western swing Wednesday night when they meet the Warriors in San Francisco.

Only 16 games are scheduled. They'll include one in which all-winning Crystal Falls will host a once-beaten Stambaugh five and another in which Brimley and DeTour, both undefeated, will clash for the Eastern U. P. League lead. It was evident right from the start that Crystal Falls would be one of this year's cage powerhouses. The Trojans have won six straight games; are averaging better than 88 points per outing. But few persons expected Stambaugh to be one of the better clubs in Class C. The Hilltoppers had won only one game last year, dropping 14 in a row before snapping the string as the season ended. But during the past month they won three of their first four games, losing only to unbeaten Ishpeming, then last week sprang one of the early-season surprises by beating Iron Mountain by 17 points.

Stambaugh, it should be noted, has a tall team, one which can come close to matching Crystal Falls' height. In his second year as coach, Brook T. Smith is making the best use of that height, using Brian Greenlund, Mark Heikkila, Mickey Holmes, Don Vaccari

GLADSTONE

Bloodmobile At Jones School

The Badger Blood Mobile Unit will be at the James T. Jones School Wednesday from 3 to 7 p. m. The regular quota of 77 pints will be asked of the local residents in an attempt to bring the total years donations from Gladstone up to expectation.

Members of All Saints Guild will service the canteen. Girl Scout Troop 87, under the direction of Mrs. Milburn Nolan, have been busy recruiting donors and will assist on the floor Wednesday.

Library Holiday Schedule Begins On Wednesday

With the closing of the Gladstone Schools for the Christmas and New Year Holiday Tuesday afternoon, the School and Public Library will begin their limited hours on Wednesday, according to Mrs. Dorene Anderson, librarian.

The library will be open Wednesday and Friday of this week from 1 to 4 p. m. and Thursday from 6:30 to 9 p. m. Next weeks hours will be Tuesday and Thursday from 6:30 to 9 p. m. and Wednesday and Friday from 1 to 4 p. m.

Regular hours will be resumed on Wednesday, Jan. 3, with the re-opening of schools for regular classes. However the Library will be open Tuesday, Jan. 2, from 6:30 to 9 p. m.

Social

Ladies of the L. F. and E. will hold a regular meeting following a pot-luck dinner at the home of Mrs. Robert Wilbee, 1320 Wisconsin Ave., Wednesday at 6:30 p. m. Election of officers will be conducted at the business meeting and Mrs. Wilbee has donated the prize.

Long Search Lands Doctor In Boyne City

BOYNE CITY (AP) — A six month search for a doctor ends this week when Dr. James Morrison, 40, of Hazlet, N. H., arrives in Boyne City to set up practice. Dr. Morrison notified local officials he plans to move to Michigan by the end of the week.

The Charlevoix County community of 3,000 lost its only doctor in June when the state suspended the license of Dr. Wolfgang A. J. Bose in connection with a previous charge of participating in an abortion. An appeal was unsuccessful.

Card of Thanks

Coplan

The Family of Eileen Coplan appreciated deeply the expression of sympathy, the many acts of kindness and the sincere thoughtfulness of our dear friends for our beloved Eileen.

Enshaw

We wish to thank my friends, neighbors and relatives for their kindness and sympathy in our bereavement. The death of my dear husband William Enshaw. We are grateful to Rev. Jordan Teller for his comforting words, to the pallbearers, to those who sent flowers, spiritual bouquets, the donation of food, those who offered the use of their cars. Your kind acts will never be forgotten.

The Family of William Enshaw

Family Bureau Work Reported

A quick picture of the U. P. Family Life Bureau, one of Escanaba's newest "industries", was presented to the Escanaba Kiwanis Club Monday by Urban Steinmetz, executive vice president of the organization.

The program started with a $10,000 grant from the Roman Catholic Diocese of Marquette, Steinmetz said, but now is completely self supporting, and is the only interfaith bureau to deal with marriage enrichment in this country. The income comes from sales of the programs, speaking and organizational fees.

Steinmetz had started in this area working as a marriage counselor, but found a greater percentage of problems could be found with a program of indoctrination along the lines of happy marriages. The marriage enrichment series, as well as other documentaries which they produce is built on real experiences of persons, not some hypothetical dream upon which we think our married lives should be based on, he said.

The series is used mostly in small informal gatherings, church groups and study clubs. It is now in 55,000 areas in the United States and also in 14 foreign countries. Research is one of the biggest items, Steinmetz added, and the local office receives on the average of at least one book a day on this phase. Another big job of the organization is the training of teachers to give proper sex education and marriage counseling.

The Bureau is governed by a non-denominational board of two Protestant and two Catholic couples. Lyle Plovman is the president of the Bureau. Some of the advisors included priests, ministers, lawyers, and doctors. At present there are 10 full time, and eight part time employees.

Services Held Saturday For Keith Kleiber

Keith Kleiber, 40, physical therapist at St. Joseph-Lloyd Hospital in Menominee, died Dec. 14 after being a patient at the hospital for several days.

He is survived by his wife, the former Shirley Lusardi of Rock, one son Jay, three daughters, Patti, Jill and Beth; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Kleiber, formerly of Rock, now residing on Highway M-35, Menominee; one sister, Mrs. John Baltus, Wausau, Wis. His only brother Jack 44, preceded him in death on Nov. 20.

Kleiber graduated from the Rock High School in 1946, served in the U. S. Navy from 1946-48 and was married in Perkins in February of 1949. He received his Bachelor of Science degree from the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor. For the past 13 years the family had resided in Menominee.

Local residents attending the funeral Saturday at St. Anne's church in Menominee were Mrs. Celia Englund and Joe Kodanko, McFarland; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Grzybowski and daughter, Pat, Bark River; Adeline Lusardi, Trenary; Mr. and Mrs. Neil Bailey, Gwinn; Mrs. Joan Kleiber and Mrs. Walfrid Salo, Gladstone; Gladstone: John Weber, Manistique; Mrs. Nellie Salmi, Mrs. Lawrence Wilcox, Mr. and Mrs. Les Maki, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Trombly, Martin Muhonen, Ernest Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Beauchamp, Mrs. Girard VanDamme, Emil Lusardi, Mr. and Mrs. Eino Kivela, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lusardi, Mr. and Mrs. Verne Bailey, Rock.

AMC Reported Making Money

DETROIT (AP)—Sources close to American Motors today confirmed reports the nation's fourth largest auto company was making money again after long months of being in the red.

The report, carried by the New York Times today, said AMC earned $4 million in October, a smaller amount in November and would be in the black again this month.

Officially, AMC took a strong no comment stand. "We do not comment on speculative stories," a company statement said.

UPPER PENINSULA POWER CO. held the second of its three district Christmas parties and service anniversary recognition programs at the Dells Supper Club Monday evening. Among those honored and attending the Southern Division party were, from left: Robert Jensen, Delta, 15 year anniversary; Russell Hoyer, Houghton, president; Wilbur Montgomery, Houghton, 10 years; John Warden, Houghton, chairman of the board of directors; William Veesser, Houghton, vice president-sales; Samuel Saykily, Delta, 15 years. (Daily Press Photo)

Utility Yule Party Stresses Humanity

Renewal of a second 10-year operating agreement with the City of Escanaba was the highlight of Upper Peninsula Power Co.'s 1967 operations in its Southern Division. President Russell Hoyer told employees of the division at their annual Christmas party Monday evening at the Dells Supper Club.

U.P. Power operates the generating plant owned by the City of Escanaba and takes its excess power for distribution in its big power grid, which extends from Seney, Blaney and Port Inland on the east to White Pine in Ontonagon County on the west.

"We corporate officers and company directors," said Hoyer, "feel that the employees are the most important asset of our growing and progressive company. I thank you all for our accomplishments in 1967. They include:

"U.P. Generating Co. (at Marquette, partly owned by U.P. Power) dedicated generating unit No. 4 with 58,400 kilowatt generating capacity, making the station total 176,300 KW.

"In the Eastern Division we have a new interconnection with a national power pool, with work being completed on the Nordic Line to tie us in with Wisconsin-Michigan Power Co. near Iron Mountain.

"In the Western Division we are selling all 60-cyle power requirements to Calumet & Hecla, Inc. At John Warden Station at L'Anse we are using natural gas as fuel for steam and electric generation.

Volkema Rites On Wednesday

LANSING (AP)—Funeral services for State Sen. Harold J. Volkema, R-Holland, are to be at 2 p.m. Wednesday at Faith Christian Reformed Church in Holland.

A section of the church is to be reserved for legislators, said Sen. Milton Zaagman, R-Grand Rapids.

Volkema died Sunday, apparently of a heart attack.

Briefly Told

The Fraternal Order of Eagles will meet at 8:30 p.m. today at the Eagles Club.

Escanaba police have issued a traffic court notice to Michael T. Blahnik, Bay View Location, for driving a vehicle without lights.

Ray Richards of 235 S. 22nd St. reported to city police that a 1960 Chevrolet pickup truck with the name Richards Print Shop on the side was stolen from the rear of his residence.

City Clerk Don Guindon today announced that 300 notices of suspension of registration have been mailed to Escanaba residents who have not voted for the past two years. The persons so notified have 30 days in which to inform the city clerk that they wish to be reinstated on the voter registration rolls.

"Another important accomplishment and a factor which adds to the employee asset is the husband and wife involvement in civic affairs. We have an excellent record in service clubs and chambers of commerce, in assistance to the churches of our employees' choice, and participation in community fund drives, fraternal organizations, PTA, League Commissions and Area Economic Committees, to mention a few.

"An example of service beyond the call of duty was cited by Col. R. M. Hoban, commander of K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base. Our Gwinn office serviceman, William Bollero stopped to render aid the night of Oct. 16 when two Air Base personnel were involved in a serious auto accident on County Road 553 and his thoughtfulness and prompt actions in rendering aid were instrumental in saving the life of one of the men."

Romney Meets With Soviet Premier Today

of France, Britain, West Germany, Italy and Canada.

The governor, who rose to prominence as an automotive executive, passed up a Soviet offer to visit an automobile plant. "They are too out of date," he told a reporter. "They're in the process of modernizing."

The governor wore only a light topcoat and went hatless on his tour of the city where the temperature was 10 degrees.

At Lenin's tomb, unheated like the space exhibit, Romney kept his hands in his coat pockets. A frowning guard nudged him to remove them, since church-like respect is shown in the tomb. He complied.

Romney started his day by having breakfast with Marine guards at the U.S. Embassy.

Then he took a ride on the Moscow subway, whose elaborate Stalin-era Stations he praised as "impressive."

Ordinary Russians noticed the stir around him but obviously did not know who he was. The Soviet press has barely mentioned Romney and never published a photo of him.

In the glass-roofed space exhibit, Romney saw models of the ships that carried cosmonauts into orbit and kept this country's neck and neck in the space race with the United States.

Meanwhile, in Washington, Democratic National chairman John M. Bailey said Romney can best serve his country by "stopping his meddling in our country's foreign affairs."

Romney's scheduled meeting with Kossygin follows a lively 90-minute session Monday with an elite group of Soviet citizens at the Moscow House of Friendship.

After the session, which was closed to newsmen, Romney said he "heard some new ideas," but declined to say what they were.

Sixty-seven company employees throughout the U.P. are receiving service awards this year at the Christmas parties.

Marines Bring 500 Toys

Christmas To Be Merrier For Hannahville Children

It will be a merrier Christmas for 83 children of the Hannahville Indian Community again this year thanks to group of Marines from the Glenview, Ill., Naval Air Station.

A U. S. Navy C-117 landed at the Escanaba Municipal Airport this morning carrying nearly 500 toys of all sorts for distribution to the children.

This is the third year that Hannahville has been included in the "Toys for Tots" drive conducted by the Marine unit at Glenview, but the first year that the toys have arrived before Christmas Day.

It was also the first year that McDonald's Drive-In Restaurants have joined with the Marines in sponsoring the drive.

"We wanted to get here before Christmas this year to let the children have a real Christmas," said Staff Sgt. Arthur Espinosa, chairman of the drive.

Annual Flight Col. Robert Steinway, executive officer of the Marine Air Reserve Training Detachment who made the flight to Escanaba, said that it is the intention of the unit to make the Hannahville Community a permanent part of the program which annually receives thousands of toys from the Glenview and northwest Chicago area for distribution to needy families and children.

"This is a real fine program," said Billy Bolin of Gladstone, field representative for the bureau of Indian Affairs.

The toys were taken to the Hannahville community by pickup truck and station wagon where VISTA workers Bernadine Branko and Rexanne Maxwell, who have been working in the area for the past four and a half months, will sort them by age groups and prepare individual boxes for the families.

Miss Branko, a native of Hawaii who normally spends her Christmas season in a little warmer climate, said that the girls plan distribution to the Indian families Wednesday.

Warrent Officer Jay Carr, who coordinated the "Toys for Tots" flight to Escanaba a year ago, said that the Glenview program reaches about 4,000 children in that area every year. He said that solicitation of toys is from a population of nearly 1,000,000 people.

Many Toys Given "We get a tremendous amount of toys," he smiled. "It's nice to be able to do something for these people."

Jerry Agiewicz, supervisor of McDonald's stores at Niles and Wheeling, Ill., said that next year the nationally-known, hamburger - oriented chain plans to push harder in the program.

Carr indicated that Brunswick, Inc., also has supported the program, like McDonald's allowing use of their facilities as pickup points.

The toys were presented to Mrs. Joseph Sagataw, wife of the Tribal Chairman. She also voiced her appreciation to the Marine Unit on behalf of the children of the community.

"We're glad we're able to come," said Espinosa.

The smiles on the faces of the children this Christmas will show that they are glad, too.

Logging Congress Picks Antigo For Three Year Stand

The Timber Producers Association announces possibility that Antigo could become the permanent home of the Lake States Logging Congress.

President Glen Garlock announced that Antigo has been chosen as the site of the Logging Congress for the next three years.

Antigo was chosen because Logging Congresses held there in recent years have been very successful and also because the Langlade County Fairgrounds is ideally suited for the purposes of the Logging Congress. Other cities considered were Rhineland and Eagle River, Wis.

Garlock said that the Association plans to build offices and a working museum at the site of the permanent Association home when one is finally selected.

Turkey Eats Itself To Death

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP)—North Carolina's entry in the heaviest turkey contest has gobled himself to death.

In a letter to Gov. Dan Moore, State Agriculture Commissioner James A. Graham said: "It becomes my regrettable duty to inform you that our entry for the national heaviest turkey contest is deceased... The winner of the weigh-in ceremony held at the North Carolina State Fair died from obesity."
